Dee Jay's FAST FACTS

BABY BACK

Sourced from the upper section of the rib cage for a generous meat-to-bone ratio. This enhanced meaty flavor makes this the preferred cut in the USA.

ST. LOUIS

Trimmed to a consistent size, St. Louis-style ribs are longer than baby backs yet shorter than spare ribs. This cut boasts a flatter profile.

SPARE

Carved from the lower rib section, spare ribs feature longer bones. This cut strikes a balance with baby backs, offering a unique profile with slightly less meat.

WEEKLY PRODUCTION

Dee Jay's proudly crafts a whopping 4,800 pounds of mouthwatering ribs every week.

That's 124.8 TONS of baby back ribs per year!
